

FCC Commissioners
The Federal Communications Commission RE: Docket 04-435
445 12th Street, SW
Washington, DC 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners ,

I am writing to voice my concerns about the FCC's proposal to relax the restrictions on the use of cell phones on airplanes in flight.

There is no hard evidence that cell phone use doesn't interfere with navigational instruments. The introduction of cell phone use in the cabin will not only increase tension among passengers, it will compromise flight attendants' ability to maintain order in an emergency. Cell phone use could also enable terrorists to coordinate a plan of action more effectively.

It is bad enough that we have to listen to cell phone conversations while sitting in the doctor and/or dentist's office and while shopping, etc. It is rude and nerve-wracking. Allowing the use of cell phones on planes is a horrible idea. I can see people now when the flight attendants need his or her attention...We are in close quarters as it is on a plane. I do not want to hear every word of someone else's conversation.

Please leave the current rules in effect.

Sincerely,

Patricia Babi
